A DUCK, A FROG AND A KEY

Once upon a time there were a duck and a frog that fell deeply in love with each other. One day they decided to find out a key that would lock their love for ever. They took a flying chair which drove them far away into space where they found a key of love which shaped them into image of eternal love shining from the Constellation of The Duck and The Frog and The Key.

AN ELEPHANT AND A CAMEL

Once upon a time there were an elephant and a camel. They lived with their step mother giraffe. After she died they were told that she had been moved to heavens. They were very sad so they tried to jump high enough to reach the sky with heavens, but only camel could jump high enough. In summer we can admire the Camel Constellation .

THE SCORPION

It was during a war in the middle ages that a scorpion crawled into a net of a catapult. At a very moment a knight decided to test if a catapult was in order so he activated it by pushing out a handle. A scorpion was sent very high up to the sky, so far away that he had to stay there. From that time we can see him as an image on the winter sky in the Scorpion Constellation.
